

Project REVENANT

invites you to a guest lecture by Tamara Scheer:

Turning a forgotten burial place in Rome of 450
Austro-Hungarian Soldiers from First World War
into a Memorial of 21st Century
(Analytical, Methodological and Practical Challenges)

Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences in Rijeka

Wednesday, 26 April 2023, 14:00 h

Classroom F-204

Tamara Scheer is a historian at the Institute for East European History/University of Vienna, formerly at Ludwig Boltzmann Institute for Historical Social Science (Vienna), and Andrassy University Budapest. She is a Board Member of: Slovanský přehled/Slavonic Review and Istraživanja, Journal of Historical Researches. Her research focuses on Austria-Hungary, First World War, State of Emergency, Imperial Diversity (i.p. Army and Roman Catholic Church), and Nationalism. Currently she is also head of a research project at Pontifical Institute Santa Maria dell' Anima (Rome).

This project has received funding from the European Research Council (ERC) under the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme (Grant agreement No. #101002908).